Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election of Group II, Claims 17-35, in the reply filed on 11/18/2005 is acknowledged. Because applicant did not distinctly and specifically point out the supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election has been treated as an election without traverse (MPEP § 818.03(a)).

Claim Objections

Claims 17, 30, and 32-35 are objected to because of the following informalities: as per claims 17 and 33-35, taking claim 17 as exemplary, the antecedent basis for "the one or more statistical timing queries" [lines 5-6] is confusing, it is not clear if the feature is intended to be interpreted as "creating ..." or "based on ..."; there is no antecedent basis for "the arrival times" [line 8]; it is not clear which "tightness probabilities" [line 9] are being referred to; there is no antecedent basis for "required arrival times" [lines 10-11]. As per claim 30, there is no antecedent basis for "the delay of each component" [line 1]. As per claim 32, there is no antecedent basis for "sources of variation" [line 3]. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 17-35 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

As per claims 17 and 33-35, taking claim 17 as exemplary, "assigning levelization parameters" [lines 6-7] is vague and indefinite, it is not clear what the parameters are assigned to; "answering the one or more statistical timing queries" [line 12] is vague and indefinite, it is not clear where a query is asked.

The remaining claims, though not specifically mentioned, are rejected for incorporating the errors of their respective base claim by dependency.

The following rejections are based on the examiner's best interpretation of the claims in view of the objections and rejections raised above.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 17-35 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Abato et al. [U.S. Patent #5,508,937].

As per claims 17 and 33-35 [column 7, lines 58-61], taking claims 17 as exemplary, a method for incremental statistical timing analysis, comprising the steps of: a. conducting an initial statistical timing analysis and saving one or more arrival tightness probabilities and one or more required arrival tightness probabilities [column 1, lines 58-63; column 7, line 66-column 8, line 25; column 9, lines 35-40]; b. creating a change list based on the changed to the electrical circuit and the one or more statistical timing queries, and assigning levelization parameters [column 7, lines 6-7; column 8, lines 26-34; column 10, lines 25-27; column 18, line 2column 22, lines 20-27, 32-35]; c. conducting incremental statistical forward propagation of probabilities [column 1, lines 58-63; column 15, line 56; column 21, lines 55-61]; d. conducting incremental statistical reverse propagation of probabilities [column 1, lines 58-63; column 15, lines 58; column 21, lines 55-67]; and e. answering the one or more statistical timing queries [column 6, line 66-column 7, line 4]. As per claims 18-24, see the entire document for optional characteristics of queries. As per claims 25-26, see column 8, line 48-column 9, line 10. As per claims 27-29, see the entire document for optional characteristics of electrical circuits. As per claims 30-32, see column 1, lines 58-65 for well-known characteristics of statistical timing analysis computations [see also Devgan et al. [U.S. Patent Application #2004/0243954 A1].

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Srinivasan et al. [U.S. Patent #6,851,095 B1] disclose incremental recharacterization that accommodates design changes. Pedersen et al. [U.S. Patent #6,490,717 B1] disclose incremental recompilation. Lee [U.S. Patent #6,367,056 B1] discloses incremental timing analysis. Cleereman et al. [U.S. Patent #6,026,220] incremental optimization that maintains lists.
